Landslide, Upset By GOP Sparks Off-Year Voting

Virginia Voters Snap Long Democratic Hold

Republicans have captured showpiece state elections with a Virginia upset and a New Jersey landslide, while New York Mayor John V. Lindsay fashioned a personal triumph and became his party's ranking free-lance politician.

President Nixon, who intervened as a campaigner, shared in the twin GOP victories Tuesday which made a Republican governor of Virginia for the first time in nearly a century, and won the New Jersey state house after 16 years of Democratic rule.

Lindsay, a Republican but not a Republican nominee, won his three-way race with a margin greater than that he built four years ago to win his first term. The victory gave new lustre to his credentials as a man with a potential future in national politics.

Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes, a Negro, withstood the tough challenge of a Republican rival who challenged his crime-fighting record. A black candidate was narrowly defeated in Detroit; black independents ran far behind major party nominees in races for mayor of Buffalo and Hartford.

Republican Linwood Holton captured the Virginia statehouse in the major upset of the off-year elections, defeating Democrat William C. Battle and stopping at 21 a chain of Democratic gubernatorial victories there.

The first congratulations we got came from our friend in the White House," said the victorious Holton.

Nixon was indeed a friend, flying to Roanoke a week before the election to campaign for Holton, an old political ally, urging Virginia to set an example for the entire South by breaking with Democratic tradition.

Nixon backed both the President put in an evening's campaigning, too, for Rep. William T. Cahill, the six-term congressman who swamped former Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner to win election as governor of New Jersey.

In Virginia, returns from 1,863 of 2,032 precincts gave Holton 457,897 votes, Battle, 374,516. Cahill trounced Meyner. With 4,888 of 5,081 districts counted, the Republican had 1,340,621 votes, the Democrat 877,228.

That victory delivered to the GOP the last of the northern industrial states still governed by a Democrat, Richard J. Hughes, who was ineligible for another term.

And the two victories gave Republicans 32 governorships, leaving the Democrats with only 18.

Nixon found time during a black tie dinner at the White House to telephone his congratulations to the two Republican winners.

"One thing is evident in the two races," said Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland, the Republican national chairman. "In New Jersey the Democrat made an issue out of the President's position in Vietnam and lost, and in Virginia the Republican made it an issue by backing the President and won."

People Against War Morton said that signaled a voter endorsement of the policy Nixon described in an election eve report to the nation.

But Lindsay, in victory, sounded again a theme of his comeback campaign, calling his re-election as a Liberal-Independent "a message that the people of New York City want the war to end."

Sen. Fred Harris of Oklahoma, the Democratic national chairman, avoided comment on the election day outcome, preferring to wait until after the results were in.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., disagreed. He said elimination of Fitzgerald's job—deputy for management systems in the office of assistant secretary of the Air Force for financial management—was clearly a reward for the CIA testimony.

"It is a clear message from the Pentagon to its employees," Proxmire said. "That message is: 'Do not try to reduce costs; do not aim at economy; don't attempt to achieve economy. If you do you will be isolated and fired.'"

Reduction Ordered Proxmire, who headed the subcommittee that heard Fitzgerald's testimony, said: "To fire a man who has exposed the most gross form of waste and inefficiency in government on the grounds of economy is to make a mockery of that term."

Secretary of the Air Force Robert C. Seamans said the job was abolished as one of some 250 military and civilian reductions ordered in the service to save money.

It was Fitzgerald who, beginning about a year ago, informed Proxmire and other members of Congress that the CIA program, which involves the world's largest aircraft, would cost $2 billion more than the original estimate of $3.1 billion.

Cost Estimate Hit The Birmingham, Ala., native blamed the cost overruns on faulty cost estimating by the Air Force, inadequate cost control and planning and other things.

Fitzgerald said in a telephone interview "there is no question" but that the Air Force tried to conceal spiraling cost estimates on the CIA 120-plane contract with Lockheed-Georgia Corp.

Today's Chuckle A man got a letter appealing for funds that was addressed to "Occupant." He sat right down, wrote a check for $10,000, and mailed it back in the enclosed postage-paid envelope. Yes, he signed the check "Occupant."

For Detroit Mayor:

Gribbs Winner By Close Vote

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County Sheriff Roman Gribbs, a moderate who pledged to fight crime and restore "order and justice under the law," has emerged as mayor of Detroit over a Negro candidate in a campaign in which both candidates avoided exploitation of racial tension.

Gribbs, 43, who grew up on a farm and made his political reputation by cleaning up a scandal-plagued sheriff's office, scored a close victory over Richard Austin, 56, county auditor, in Tuesday's nonpartisan election.

1,000 Majority Gribbs received 257,714 votes compared to 250,651 for Austin and 1,881 for Councilwoman Mary V. Beck, write-in candidate who finished third in the primary after conducting a "law and order" campaign.

The race, first in the city's history matching white and black nominees, drew a record proportion of Detroit's 740,819 registered voters to the polls.

Despite efforts by both candidates to keep race from becoming an issue, a preliminary analysis of the vote indicated that about 80 per cent of the white voters cast their ballots for Gribbs, while about 25 per cent of the Negroes voted for Austin. Detroit's population is estimated at 40 per cent Negro, but only about 30 per cent of the registered voters are black.

Both candidates pleaded for unity in their post-election statements.

"For All The People" Promising to be a "mayor for all the people," Gribbs asked Detroiters to show the nation they live in a city "where we can live together, work together and build together in harmony."

Austin asked his supporters to cooperate with the new administration "in whatever capacity deemed best for the total community."

Gribbs takes over the $35,000-a-year job next Jan. 6 from incumbent Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, who is stepping down from the nonpartisan office he has held for two four-year terms.

Cavanagh decided not to seek re-election after he suffered a series of damaging blows to his political image, including the 1967 racial riots and a headline divorce fight concerning the custody of his eight children.

Cavanagh, a Democrat, and Gov. William Milliken, a Republican, sent similar telegrams to the two contestants, praising both for conducting dignified, high-level campaigns.

The campaign battle between Austin and Gribbs started out at a snail's pace, and midway through the race both candidates were being criticized by observers for not discussing the issues.

"I came here hoping to talk with Mr. Gribbs about public housing," said Scott, good-naturedly, "but I don't think I'll be able to see him tonight since I don't have an appointment with the new mayor."

Jackson Okays City Income Tax In Third Test JACKSON (AP) — A city income tax — defeated three previous times — was passed by Jackson voters in an unofficial test final vote Tuesday, 5,630 - 4,706.

Jackson Mayor Maurice B. Townsend Jr. was reelection to a two-year term, turning back challenger Carmen Leino, 5,646 - 4,328.

Voters also elected their first Negro councilman when Mrs. James V. Whitman was named to the sixth ward post with 5,139 votes. She had been appointed to a vacancy in May.

No Retaliation The service said the action was "absolutely not" related to what it referred to as Fitzgerald's "previous notoriety in relation with congressional testimony."

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., disagreed. He said elimination of Fitzgerald's job—deputy for management systems in the office of assistant secretary of the Air Force for financial management—was clearly a reward for the CIA testimony.

Here's Voting At-A-Glance

By The Associated Press Here are some of the winners in Tuesday's major elections around the nation:

Governorship New Jersey: William T. Cahill, Republican.

Virginia: Linwood Holton, Republican.

Mayors New York: Mayor John V. Lindsay won a second term as a Liberal-Independent candidate after losing the Republican primary.

Cleveland: Democratic Mayor Carl B. Stokes narrowly won a second term.

Detroit: County Sheriff Roman Gribbs won a nonpartisan election.

Pittsburgh: Peter F. Flaherty, an independent Democrat.

Hartford: Republican Ann Uccello re-elected.

Buffalo: Democratic incumbent Frank A. Sedita.

New Haven: Bartholomew F. Gudda, Democrat.

Referenda Proposals to lower the voting age to 18 in New Jersey and 19 in Ohio failed by substantial margins.

New Jersey voters approved overwhelmingly a state lottery and a $271 million bond to fight water pollution. North Carolina voters okayed an additional one per cent sales tax for local purposes.

Kentucky voters rejected a constitutional amendment providing for annual, instead of biennial, legislative sessions. In New York State, a conservation "bill of rights" appeared headed for approval.

1970 Chryslers Being Recalled For Wheel Probe DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. reported Tuesday the recall of 754 1970-model passenger cars "for inspection and replacement, if required, of inadequately welded wheels."

In addition, Chrysler said 828 Dodge trucks, including some 1970 models, are being recalled for inspection and replacement, where needed, of nuts and bolts.

The 1970 passenger cars involved are Plymouth Belvedere and Barracuda and Dodge Coronets and Challengers.

In one truck campaign 322 Dodge 1968 and 1969 heavy duty, tandem axle models are being recalled for inspection and correction, if necessary, of equalizer beam attaching bolts.

In another, 286 Dodge 1970 model D200, D300 and W200 trucks are being recalled for inspection of master cylinder attaching bolts.

Twenty Dodge 1970 model D200 W200 and M300 trucks are being recalled for inspection of possibly improperly installed rear axle bearing nut retainer locks.

Negro Helpers Elated Over Gribbs' Win

DETROIT (AP) — "That's right, 'Peace!' " yelled a black man wearing a "Gribbs" button at the tumultuous victory rally.

His shouts were almost drowned by others when Detroit's mayor-elect Roman Gribbs, who is white, hesitantly held up his fingers in a "V" sign before beginning his victory speech.

The smiling, 43-year-old Wayne County sheriff was flanked by four Negroes on the victory dais in the ballroom of the Hotel Pick-Fort Shelby as he gave his thanks to supporters and to opponents.

The mayoral race he had just won against a black candidate, Wayne County Auditor Richard Austin, had been spiced with warnings of voting by racial lines. The candidates' low key campaign nevertheless brought a record voter turnout which gave Gribbs a narrow margin to win.

Gribbs, surrounded by his wife, five children, mother and brother, called for unity.

"Let's continue to show the rest of the nation and Detroit that this is a city where we can work together, live together and build together," he said, in his 10-minute speech.

Waiting for a word with the new mayor following the victory address, Ron Scott, a black militant with a bushy Afro haircut, said he represented the city's west side Jefferson Action Committee, which is involved in a rent strike.

"I came here hoping to talk with Mr. Gribbs about public housing," said Scott, good-naturedly, "but I don't think I'll be able to see him tonight since I don't have an appointment with the new mayor."

Complete GI Pullout By '70 Seen Possible WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon appears to have bound himself tighter than before to a possible pullout of all U.S. ground combat troops from Vietnam by the end of 1970.

This conclusion grows out of an analysis of Nixon's report Monday night placed against the background of his statements on the question last June.

While refusing to announce a withdrawal timetable, Nixon told the nation progress in training South Vietnamese forces and an easing of enemy battlefield activity "has been greater than we anticipated when we started" the pullout program.

Critic Finds Job Abolished

WASHINGTON (AP) — A. Ernest Fitzgerald says the Air Force eliminated his $35,000-a-year job in retaliation for his Congressional testimony disclosing multimillion-dollar cost overruns for the giant CIA super-transport plane.

"I couldn't prove that, but I think it's a safe assumption," the 43-year-old Fitzgerald said after the Air Force said Tuesday his job had been abolished as a part of a "reorganization" move. He said he wouldn't "waste time" trying to appeal.

No Retaliation The service said the action was "absolutely not" related to what it referred to as Fitzgerald's "previous notoriety in relation with congressional testimony."

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., disagreed. He said elimination of Fitzgerald's job—deputy for management systems in the office of assistant secretary of the Air Force for financial management—was clearly a reward for the CIA testimony.

Did Silent Majority Speak Out?

By WALTER R. MEARS WASHINGTON (AP) — The Americans President Nixon calls "the great silent majority" have come through for the Republican party in two feature races of the off-year elections, prompting GOP claims of a Vietnam policy endorsement at the polls.

While Republicans can't prove their case from the Virginia and New Jersey governorship races, simply by making it they may influence the course of the war policy debate certain to erupt in the days and weeks ahead.

The message they want read into the outcome: A man running for office, or planning a campaign in next year's battle for Congress, would do well to stand by the President.

Not so, said a Democratic spokesman. "We don't look upon this as a test of Nixon's national strength."

Vietnam Unit Severely Hit

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese suffered their heaviest losses in four months Tuesday in a 10-hour battle in the southwest corner of the central highlands. But the government troops reported three times as many North Vietnamese killed in the fighting as to eight miles southwest of the Duc Lap Special Forces camp. Another 38 South Vietnamese were wounded, and several were reported missing.

A government ranger battalion of about 400 men made the first contact with a strong enemy force in the frontiers of Saigon. Two infantry battalions and an armored battalion were rushed up until about 1,500 government troops were fighting in the rolling hills overgrown with long grass.

The North Vietnamese were from the same three regiments that fought South Vietnamese troops last May and June around the Ben Het Special Forces camp and in the Dak To valley in the northern part of the central highlands.

LPN Training LANSING (AP) — The U.S. Labor Department reports 30 jobless or underemployed persons in Saginaw will receive classroom training as licensed practical nurses. The department has appropriated $118,947 for the project.

Further Delay In Education Bill Foreseen LANSING (AP) — Confronted with adamant opposition from a fellow Republican, Gov. William Milliken today faced further delay in his efforts to win prompt debate over key education reform-tax bills.

A leading opposition Democrat, meanwhile, prepared yet another alternative measure. Milliken's proposed five-cent increase in the seven-cent-a-pack state excise tax on cigarettes remained in the Senate Taxation Committee, along with two other administration proposals.

After a more than two-hour Republican Senate caucus Tuesday night, Taxation Chairman Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, repeated his position that "it is my job to make positively sure that every tax bill is the right tax bill."

"If it is going to mean locking heads," he said, "I'll take that chance." DeMaso insisted during the earlier hearing that the cigarette tax hike would expose Michigan to a serious smuggling problem.

DeMaso charged the State Treasury Department "suppressed" a staff study showing that a tax of more than eight cents contributes significantly to smuggling.

The study is described in a Feb. 4 letter by David W. Parker, state cigarette and miscellaneous taxes director, to Deputy Tax Commissioner Sydney D. Goodman.

"It is a safe assumption to predict a minimum loss of revenue for a 10-12-cent tax rate of 10 per cent or more," Parker wrote. "My prediction would be a loss of $1.5 million at the barest minimum."

Senate Minority Leader Sen. Levin, D-Berkley, told DeMaso's committee he soon would introduce an alternative to the 16-mill statewide property tax proposed by Milliken.

Levin said his bill calls for a $3,000 property valuation exemption for elderly taxpayers.

Parochialism Is 'American' Question, HN Group Told

About 200 persons attending a public meeting sponsored by the U. S. Committee to Save Non-Public Schools in the Holy Name High School gym Tuesday night heard a Jesuit priest describe Michigan's proposed parochial bill as probably unconstitutional and heard two state legislators comment on it. One favors it and one opposes it.

The speakers were the Rev. Fr. Virgil C. Blum, professor of political science at Marquette University, Milwaukee, and a noted commentator on use of tax funds for education of children in church-related schools; Rep. Dominic Jacobetti (D-Naganssee) and Rep. Charles Varum (R-Manistiquie).

Father Blum described the problem for which Gov. William Milliken has proposed an answer of limited aid to the private schools of the state, as "not a Catholic problem; not a Protestant nor Jewish problem, but an American problem because it affects so many basic American values."

"We are talking here about how best to educate the children in America, including the children of the poor. We are talking about the right of parents to give the education that they think is best for their child. The U. S. Supreme Court in 1925 upheld their right to do this unanimously," he said.

Discussing Education
"We are discussing the education of the child in secular subjects in preparation for life in our American democracy. Your fellow citizens are not concerned with the education of your child in religious subjects but in secular subjects."

"The education of the child is the concern of parents—most of all, as asserted by the U. S. Supreme Court—of the church and of the state. Parents (who choose private schools for their children) should not be penalized by denial of tax funds for their education in secular subjects."

"What kind of education are we to have in our pluralistic society, control by the majority with minorities to have no rights? Do we want state monopoly in our education or do we want diversity, with all schools teaching required subjects, but with different philosophical orientation?"

Diversity Urged
"More and more public educators are pleading with the private schools not to phase out because the private schools are the best guarantee of their (the public schools) freedom. If we are going to have different points of view, we must have diversity in education," said Father Blum.

Dr. Milton Himmelfarb in Commentary expresses the Jewish concern about the nature of our society in America and proposed a public subsidy to the private schools to avoid ultimate tyranny in America. As the volunteer-private organizations wither away, he says, the area of the state's involvement must expand and eventually you have equality. So we need to strengthen pluralism."

"Lack of choice in education is at the heart of our educational problem. What the public schools need most of all is a strong private school competitor. There are also the benefits of freedom and of diversity in a pluralistic society. But in the past three years over 750,000 private school students have transferred to the public schools and in the next five years it is predicted that two million more will transfer. Public educators are much concerned."

Recommends a Foster
Father Blum said that while the basic question involved is philosophical, the economics of the closing of private schools strikes home more forcefully to people because it affects their pocketbooks directly.

"Most taxpayers," he said "have had it to the gills with school taxes, with costs going up year after year."

Michigan's 267,000 private school children, if sent to public schools at a cost of $900 apiece a year, would cost the state an added $250 million a year in taxes, he said.

"Europeans cannot understand," said Father Blum "how America, which has gone to the aid of so many people who were oppressed does not offer freedom of education to its own people. The countries of the world—almost all totalitarian—in which religion or moral values cannot be studied without tax penalties include Albania, China, Ceylon, Cuba, East Germany, Republic of South Africa, Russia, Turkey, Yugoslavia and the United States."

Right Program
Rep. Varum said that "it is important to find the right program to live with; it will defeat our purpose if it is not right."

He expressed doubt that the people understand Gov. Milliken's program to aid the private schools by paying part of the pay of certified lay teachers teaching secular subjects in schools certified as eligible by the state.

The Michigan Catholic Conference is unhappy with part of the proposal, said Varum, and he said that he was unhappy with parts of it.

"I don't think," he said, "that the alternatives have come up." Among the alternatives he suggested tax credits to parents sending children to private schools, but Father Blum in response said he had written as much on this subject as anyone and that it had a fatal flaw because it denied freedom of choice in education to the poor, who don't pay any taxes and who thus can get no tax rebate.

Opposition Cited
Varum said he had received 3,500 notices of opposition to parochialism, "many from people with children in non-public schools" and only 270 "yes" votes.

"I am concerned whether you can live with the controls that the state is going to have you live with," said Varum. Rev. Fr. Lawrence Gauthier, diocesan school superintendent for U. P. Catholic schools, said that the private schools are already under state regulation and that the proposed controls present no problems to them.

He also suggested that Rep. Varum's prediction that eventually the private school students would be receiving $900 per child was deceptive because that figure would include both state aid and local support and that the subject under discussion was state aid.

Father Blum said of Catholic attitudes that "75 to 80 per cent of Catholic parents want private schools for their children."

Votes For Education
Rep. Jacobetti said that he had voted consistently in his 16 years in the Legislature for support of education for all children and that he also endorsed state aid to non-public schools.

"I don't question the constitutionality of it," said Jacobetti (Varum said it might have a conflict in the Michigan constitution), "let the courts decide that, but they can't decide anything until there is some legislation. I think it is educationally proper, morally right and economically sound."

"We give sales tax deductions, free books, loans at low interest, free bus transportation, hot lunch and scholarships and tuition grants to the private schools. Now shall we deny state aid?"

Under the Milliken proposal it would be restricted to two per cent of the total school budget in Michigan.

John Worth presided at the meeting and James Wren monitored questions. Dr. Richard Rinehart, president of Bay de Noc Community College, and Kenneth Bray and John Sankovich of Escanaba also sat with the panel.

Questions Asked
Among questions from the audience, Lee Meyers of Escanaba asked whether or not the Committee for Aid to Non-Public Schools would accept a

Although the Kalamazoo County Board of Education is not yet a part of the Michigan parochialism issue, the board is expected to meet in Kalamazoo on Tuesday, Nov. 10, to discuss the issue.

John Robert E. Austin, director of the Michigan Council of the Fishery and Game Commission, will be the guest speaker at a conference for youth of the Great Lakes.

He believes Catholics could enjoy a greater variety of fish than they get over the border for this year's season.

Public Hearing Set For Air Ordinance

By BOB GREGG

Last night was "Clean Air" night at the regular meeting of the Delta County Board of Supervisors held at the Escanaba Township Hall in Flat Rock.

The Board not only set a date for a public hearing on the proposed clean air ordinance, but it also reprimanded the Chicago & North Western Railway for the serious air pollution problem they have relative to the dust and fifth coming from their operations at the Escanaba ore docks.

A resolution proposed by H. George Nelson setting Nov. 18 as the date when the public hearing on the clean air ordinance would be heard was adopted by the Board after a short battle by Chairman Stupak to put the meeting off until a later date.

Representatives of the Save Our Air Committee expressed concern that if the matter wasn't brought to the public at this time the pollution problem could only get worse.

Nelson told the committee members that the Board members have been studying the ordinance in great detail and would like to discuss their findings with the committee prior to the public hearing. A date for that meeting has not been set.

The Committee agreed to meet with the Board to discuss any problems the Board might have with the ordinance.

The Board passed a resolution setting up the public hearing for Nov. 18 at 8 p.m. at the Delta County Building. The public is invited to attend this meeting, and any comments anyone may have on the proposed ordinance at this meeting will be part of the public record.

The Board also sent a resolution to the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission requesting that the Chicago-Northwestern be ordered to control their dust and air pollution problem at the Escanaba ore docks.

"This is a serious situation, and it poses a health hazard to the citizens of Delta County," said Board member Nelson in presenting the resolution for adoption.

Nelson added that he has received several complaints from area residents regarding the situation at the Escanaba ore docks. "The Chicago-Northwestern has known about the problem, and the complaints,

Cancer Experts Skaptical Over Research News

By The Associated Press

Some cancer experts in the United States are skeptical about an announcement by a British research team of "one of the biggest breakthroughs in cancer research in 20 years."

But they agree that it brings nearer the day when leukemia may be cured.

The British scientists, working at Royal Brompton Hospital in Glasgow, Scotland, said Sunday that a virus that causes leukemia in cats had been made to grow in human cell tissues.

"Having this virus isolated means that finding a cure is now a matter of hard slogging," Dr. Robert Williamson of Glasgow said, after announcing the "breakthrough."

But Dr. Leon Dmochowski of Houston, chairman of the department of virology at the University of Texas and an adviser to the Leukemia Society of America, said the Glasgow finding was "hardly a great breakthrough."

Dmochowski said, however, that it would "serve as a stimulus" to leukemia research.

Al Davis, science editor of the American Cancer Society, said the Britishers were "exaggerating a little bit in terms of its real significance." He said they should not have mentioned the word "cure" in the announcement.

for a long time, yet they have failed to correct the situation," said Nelson.

The Board unanimously adopted a resolution which will be sent to the Commission requesting action. "We have no other recourse than to ask the Commission to do something about the situation," Nelson flinched.

In other business, the Board placed on file a letter it received from the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) claiming the Department was only thinking in the interest of the majority of persons concerned when it proposed the initiation of its new zoning plan for commercial fishermen.

This plan, if enacted, would virtually put the State's commercial fishermen out of business within a few years.

In its letter to the Board, the DNR stated it would try to reimburse any commercial fishermen who were put out of business. It failed, however, to say who would reimburse the consumer who some day may no longer be able to buy fresh fish caught in the Great Lakes.

The Board has been sending letters to the DNR on behalf of the commercial fishermen of Garden for the past few months, but to no avail.

The Board received a letter from the Escanaba Rotary Club saying that they would like to help the Board with the possible correction of its ambulance service problem. The Board agreed to meet with the Rotary representatives at a luncheon meeting on Dec. 5 at 12:15 p. m. to discuss the problem.

The meeting closed with the reading of a letter from William Karas, county road engineer, reminding county residents they have until Dec. 15 to get in their applications for snow plowing service for private driveways. The road commission has already sent out applications to those who have previously had the service. According to Karas, the cost of the service will remain the same as last year.

86 TIMES $12.5 MILLION SCRAPPED — This is one of those supersonic B58 bombers being scrapped by the Defense Department as part of its $3 billion economy move. These jobs cost $12.5 million each and there are 86 of them. Defense Secretary Laird says the 1,800 mph B58 can be scrapped because of improvements in our strategic deterrents, such as the forthcoming F111 bombers and improved missiles.

Highway Aide OK's Wheel Deal Of GM

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal highway administrator's acceptance of General Motors' offer to replace three-piece wheels on Chevrolet light trucks with campers or special bodies was "proper" and "the one with the most favorable immediate impact on safety," Secretary of Transportation John Volpe declared Monday.

Volpe defended Federal Highway Administrator Francis C. Turner's action in a letter to Ralph Nader, who accused Turner of politically overruling the scientific findings of the National Highway Safety Bureau.

GM's decision to replace the three-piece wheels on 50,000 three-quarter-ton trucks came after about 400 failures were reported. Nader contended that the three-piece wheels are inherently defective, and that they should have been replaced on all 200,000 Chevrolet trucks, model years 1960-65.

Of the wheel failures investigated, Volpe said, all but two were on trucks that were equipped with campers or special bodies. And those two trucks were subjected to abnormally heavy loads of construction blocks and steel, he said.

"Staff investigations must be continued to determine whether there is some significant degree of failure in vehicles not so equipped with camper-type bodies," he added.

"Some of the engineers in the National Safety Bureau, to whose documents you refer and whose professional competence neither the administrator nor I challenge, believe that the wheels in issue are inherently defective," Volpe said.

However, he continued, "their view has been contradicted, on technical and legal grounds, by General Motors."

Turner had only one other course of action open when he accepted GM's offer, the secretary said, and that was to continue with defect notification procedures in the National Traffic and Motor Vehicle Safety Act.

But that "would not result in a mandatory replacement of the wheels, an action beyond our authority to compel," he said.

"I believe that faced with these alternatives the administrator made the proper decision and the one with the most favorable immediate impact on safety," he stated.

Crime Crusader

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — The Rev. Jack L. Pepple spoke about crime during a sermon at the Lakeside Assembly of God church and returned home to hear thieves fleeing from his basement.

The minister told police the thieves took six coin collections and a collection of 40 silver certificates worth a total of about $150.

Must Have Title To Obtain Auto Plates, Says Hare

If you plan to buy your Michigan plates early this year, commercial and trailer plates are already on sale and passenger and motorcycle plates go on sale Nov. 15. . . it will be necessary that you have your vehicle title.

Secretary of State James M. Hare said some vehicle owners have already suffered frustration because they have become used to showing their previous year's registration in place of the title.

"Under a new law passed last year and which was made effective with this licensing year, it is now necessary to show your title along with proof of liability insurance, prepared or filled-out application, and enough cash to handle the transaction," notes Hare.

He said that because Michigan law for the past several years stipulated that titles be sent to lien holders, such as banks and finance companies, there may be some vehicle owners who still do not have titles in their possession, although these lien holders were obliged by law to send the titles to the owners by Jan. 1, 1969.

So, he has urged that owners with Michigan financing check into their title situations right away.

10-Year Effort Ends, Houghton Becomes A City

After 10 years of trying, Houghton residents have decided to transform their 102-year-old village into a city.

They voted 625 to 225 Tuesday to become an incorporated city — the 24th in the Upper Peninsula — and picked a nine-member commission to start writing a city charter.

The change will give Houghton equal status with Hancock, which is located immediately across the Portage waterway and is the only other incorporated city in the Copper Country.

Houghton, which was incorporated as a village in 1867, has been seeking the home rule government city status will give it for the last decade, but always with contingent plans for extension of its boundaries. The proposal this time included no provision for boundary extensions unless approved by popular vote in the area desiring annexation.

Change Approved

One of the Upper Peninsula's other 23 cities, St. Ignace, decided to switch its administrative setup from the Aldermanic system to a Council-Manager form of government. Voters approved a proposal 487 to 177 to write a new city charter which will include provisions for a six-man council and a mayor in addition to a city manager.

All proposed district probate court setups, a system offered by the Legislature, were rejected in the Upper Peninsula.

Under the proposal, a single judge would have handled probate court affairs for Baraga-Iron, Alger-Schoolcraft, Ontonagon-Gogebic, Luce-Mackinac, Menominee-Dickinson and Houghton-Keweenaw counties. The probate court setups in Delta, Marquette and Chippewa counties would have remained unchanged.

Results Listed

Only two of the counties —

Houghton and Mackinac — approved the district setup, but a favorable vote was required in both counties of a proposed district for passage. Keweenaw turned down a merger with Houghton and Luce said "no" to the Luce-Mackinac consolidation.

Results of other proposals on U. P. ballots in Tuesday's election:

• A $390,900 bond issue to provide funds for construction of a new jail was defeated in Baraga County 1,035 to 402.

• A seven-mill tax proposal to increase revenue for county operating purposes was beaten in Keweenaw County 486 to 187.

• A one-mill tax proposal to build a fire hall in Baraga County's Arvon Township was approved 93 to 54.

• Sale of the town hall site in Menominee County's Spaulding Township won voter approval 100 to 5.

• Marquette city voters rejected proposals for urban renewal, and increased compensation and longer terms for city commissioners. Favorable vote on the urban renewal proposal would have provided for raising of buildings on either side in the 200 block of Washington St. with the exception of the Post Office, Marquette Mining Journal and public service garage buildings.

The address to the nation by President Richard Nixon provided some new insight into the United States' efforts for peace, but really nothing new in line of policy on conduct or disengagement from the war.

Nixon, who appeared almost grimly determined at times during his 32-minute talk, obviously is concerned about the war. He alluded to the 1972 election, which indicates at least that he is thinking about running for another term and is concerned about the effect of the war on his chances.

But he also remained adamantly against any "precipitate" withdrawal of United States combat troops. He said he has developed a schedule for bringing the troops back home in cooperation with the South Vietnamese government, but would not announce a timetable because of the negative impact it might have on the peace efforts.

If the Communists knew when the United States would be out, they would have no real reason to negotiate.

In making known that any timetable exists for American troop withdrawal, however, President Nixon seems to be undercutting his own argument. Many observers have felt all along that Hanoi has been simply waiting out the United States and Nixon in his speech admitted that about the only progress made at the Paris peace talks has been agreement on the shape of the table.

Assuming, as we must, that the president spoke straight from the shoulder in his statements about a schedule for orderly withdrawal of American forces in his plan to "Vietnamize" the war, the Communists have even more reason not to negotiate. So the question on American troop withdrawal boils down to the single question on how soon the South Vietnamese can take over the war.

Possibly, that could come before the end of 1970, meeting the request of most of the anti-war demonstrators who will mass their forces again Nov. 13 and 15 for another round of protest.

What isn't clear in the president's approach is what he would do, if, after the United States withdraws, Hanoi then sends its legions into the South Vietnamese countryside. If Hanoi can wait four years, even reduce the level of infiltration to prompt United States withdrawals, what would prevent reactivation of the war after American troops are gone.

Nixon has made provisions for an escalation by North Vietnam if the U.S. still has forces in Vietnam. The president said that "if the level of enemy activity significantly increases we might have to adjust our timetable accordingly." And, he told Hanoi directly, "if I conclude that increased enemy action jeopardizes our remaining forces in Vietnam, I shall not hesitate to take strong and effective measures."

Once American troops are out, however, it would be extremely difficult to order them back. But Hanoi would not feel the same pressures.

So this is why the president must go slowly.

The United States looks forward to the day when all of its young men can be back home. But after four years and nearly 40,000 lives, the retreat must be covered by the strength of South Vietnam. Only then can the nation achieve an honorable exit.

Weird Colorations

Model cities, an enlarged form of urban renewal, was sold to the public as a federal scheme to rebuild American cities. The program, however, has taken on some weird colorations which members of Congress undoubtedly never realized they were legislating.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development has decided to use Model Cities as a launching pad for "social engineering" to remodel people's thinking. In Wichita, Kan., for example, officials are planning to subject local residents to sensitivity training, a kind of mass brainwashing through self and group criticism, in order to rid them of their conservative hang-ups.

Wichita also plans to subsidize the arts with federal funds. Model Cities plans justify the expenditure in this way: "In our time it may well be that Elvis Presley, Bob Dylan and the Beatles have been a prime catalyst of social change or that the film and television media are the real revolutionary forces in our world."

Wichita's plans, unfortunately, are not an exception but all too typical of projected expenditures of Model Cities funds. In other cities, black studies, sensitivity training and sex education programs are in the works for high school students. HUD officials are urging Model Cities applicants to establish civilian review boards even though they have found disfavor with voters all over the country, including New York City. Sensitivity training for the police is also being programmed under Model Cities.

While HUD is pushing these programs, President Nixon indicates his coolness toward Model Cities. The administration recently announced a 40 per cent cutback in Model Cities for the current fiscal year. It is known that the President is disappointed in the inability of Model Cities recipients to get beyond the talking stage of their programs.

Perhaps one reason Model Cities has failed so far is that HUD is so busy dreaming up and encouraging projects which have nothing to do with either the rejuvenation of decayed metropolitan areas or the intention of Congress when it enacted the program.

Peninsula Potpourri

Streets in Saint Ignace, Mich. were cluttered with scores of trees and branches which collapsed under the sheer weight of their own leaves and an accumulation of more than eight inches of wet and heavy snow. The squall which struck the city apparently was local in nature, and many persons who live outside of town were surprised to see the extent of damage when they went to work in the South.

SPOLING THE MONSTER

Sen. Bayh Questioned On 'Conflict' Ethics

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

If I were Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana, I'd hate to confront myself in the mirror.

Bayh has been leading the pack in denouncing President Nixon's nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth of South Carolina to fill the vacant seat on the U.S. Supreme Court.

One of Sen. Bayh's charges is that Judge Haynsworth held a "substantial interest" in something known as the Greenville Community Hotel Corp. at a time in 1963 that the corporation came before the court. Clark R. Mollenhoff, the White House Deputy Counsel to the President who acts as the administration's official "muckraker of the muckrakers," has looked into this matter, and he comes up with a rather amusing but nonetheless crushing account of the whole business. It develops that the Judge had absolutely no interest in the Greenville Community Hotel Corp. in 1963.

Contrary to what Sen. Bayh has alleged, the whole story of the Greenville case proves that Judge Haynsworth has a most meticulous concern for the proprieties.

On April 24, 1964, according to the Mollenhoff memorandum, the Judge did own one share of the Greenville Community Hotel Corp. stock. It was worth all of $21, and it had been allotted to him so that he could legally serve as a director of the corporation. However, this was before the Judge was on the court. In 1967, when he went on the bench, he relinquished his directorship. But on Jan. 1, 1968, he received a belated check for fifteen cents as his 1967 dividend.

Thinking the $21 share of stock had automatically reverted to the hotel corporation after his resignation, Judge Haynsworth returned the fifteen-cent check to Alexander G. Furman Jr., who had transferred the single share of stock to him two years earlier. Furman told the Judge the fifteen cents had been earned on the stock before the turn of the year. The check went back to Judge Haynsworth, who carefully listed it on his income tax return.

As for the single share of stock, he returned it to the hotel corporation. It was subsequently sold for the original price of $21 on Aug. 1, 1969 — which was some three years before litigation regarding the Greenville Hotel Corp. came before Judge Haynsworth's court.

In regard to Sen. Bayh's claim that Haynsworth had indulged in an "impropriety" in sitting on a decision involving the Greenville Hotel, Mr. Mollenhoff says that "either the Senator did not know all the facts when he made his statement and was lax if not irresponsible in making the charge, or he knew the facts and deliberately distorted."

This is a mild enough reproof. Even if Judge Haynsworth had still owned the single share of Greenville Hotel stock when the case came before his court, would he — or any judge — sell out his conscience for a piddling dividend check of fifteen cents?

Sen. Bayh may have caught Haynsworth in a "technical mistake" in buying a few shares of Greenville stock before a Circuit Court written opinion had been made public, but the correct the Judge stood to make all of $5 on his stock because of the court's decision. Is this "enrichment?" Does the making or losing of five lousy bucks constitute a "conflict of interest?" Maybe it does. But who is Sen. Bayh to toss charges of "conflict of interest" around? According to the campaign contribution figures kept by the House Clerk's Office in Washington, the United Auto Workers contributed $42,000 to the Bayh campaign in 1968. Bayh also received contributions from the United Steel Workers, the Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers Political Fund, the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers, the Machinists Non-Partisan Political League Union Drive (an organization similar to the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education), and the Textile Workers Union of America.

Bayh was re-elected to the Senate with this sort of labor help. The unions have, of course, been in the forefront of the fight against the confirmation of Judge Haynsworth.

It will be interesting to see whether Sen. Bayh disqualifies himself when asked to vote on the tax-exempt status of unions after his colleague, Sen. Fannin of Arizona, brings this question up on the Senate floor.

Gov. Milliken Signs Three Bills Into Law

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William G. Milliken signed three bills into law Tuesday including one making several changes in the income tax statutes.

One change exempts certain charitable corporations from income tax payments. Those corporations were inadvertently included in the 1967 law.

A change is made in computing credit given renters to simplify their computations. The bill also eliminated the requirement that renters provide a certificate from their landlords. The 1969 tax forms, however, will require evidence of the actual tax paid.

The bill further exempts public employees' retirement tax benefits from the state income tax. Previously, only that part of the retirement benefits contributed by the employee had been exempt.

Another change requires that quarterly tax payments of corporations and individuals be estimated and paid within 70 per cent of accuracy.

A second bill amends the State Penal Code to add extortion, kidnapping and larceny to the felony — murder rule. In signing the bill, Milliken expressed doubt about one provision.

"I must express my reservations in the inclusion of larceny of any kind in the language of the bill," he said.

Milliken said the felony rule provides that any murder committed as a part of certain crimes shall be prosecuted as first-degree murder, punishable by life imprisonment. Extortion and kidnapping should be in that category, Milliken added.

"Larceny, however, is generally a less serious offense," he said, "and, therefore, I would urge prosecuting attorneys and police agencies to exercise extreme care and utmost discretion in the application of the larceny provision of this act."

Another law signed today will provide for the appointment of a court administrator for any circuit court of 20 or more judges. The administrator would be appointed by the governor on the recommendation of the judges of the circuit.

Property Tax Exemption Hike Given Backing

LANSING (AP) — A conservative House Republican said today he supports a bill pushed by Democrats to raise property tax exemptions for the elderly.

But Rep. John P. Smeekens, R-Sherwood, said the proposals now before the House are "too timid," because 65 is the minimum qualifying age. Smeekens said the age should be lowered to 60.

The bill would increase the qualifying income ceiling from $5,000 to $6,000, and allow a $3,000 deduction from the state equalized valuation of the taxpayer's property.

The exemption now is $5,000 and is limited to property with a total tax value of less than $10,000. That limitation would be removed.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

Opening lead—jack of clubs.
 There are easy hands to play, and there are difficult ones. Here is a difficult one.

South is in seven spades and West leads a club. Declarer is far from sure of making the contract, since either the spades or hearts may break unfavorably. However, it is obvious that he must try to bring home dummy's hearts instead of ruffing his diamonds in dummy.

So let's say South wins the club with the ace, cashes the queen of spades, and plays a spade to the king, West showing out. He does not dare lead another trump. If he does, and runs into a 4-1 heart break, he will automatically go down.

He therefore leads a heart to the ace and continues with the king, hoping nothing dreadful will occur. Unfortunately, East ruffs and South goes down one.

Granting that South is unlucky to find the trumps divided 3-1 and the hearts 4-1, he has a better way of playing the hand that is bound to improve his chances considerably.

After cashing the queen of spades at trick two, he should next cash the ace of hearts. True, the ace might get ruffed, but this is a very remote possibility.

South now plays a spade to the king. If both opponents follow suit, the hand is over. But if, as in the actual case, West shows out, the contract is still 100 per cent sure—regardless of how the hearts are divided.

Declarer cashes the king of clubs, discarding the king of hearts from his hand. He then ruffs a heart, returns to dummy with a trump, and ruffs another heart. The rest of the tricks are now his.

The suggested method of play caters not only to a 3-1 trump division, but also to a 4-1 heart division. Is it therefore the best method of play.

WORTH THE CANDLE?
 Citizens arise—or maybe it is "awake." Are you going to sit by and let another piece of beautiful country be industrialized and killed?

We spent two weeks exploring Colorado and Wyoming this summer. It is lovely, free of crowds, smog, and traffic; but it is awfully far away. Last month we spent several days in your delightful area—beautiful, clear, open country and not far away. But boom, just as we got enthusiasm built up, we hear there is to be a sulfate mill planned right there. Really does it have to be? Well, we will wait and see.

As an on-city official, I question whether the increased pollution will be worth the money. Money is people, real estate, taxes, and more police, more schools, more sidewalks, more streets, and more pollution.

Think about it!

WOMEN FOR WOMEN

Dear Ann Landers: I am engaged to be married. I am very happy. The thought of carrying his name for the rest of my life and handholding our children with it makes me terribly unhappy. His name sounds like a dirty word.

Is there any law that says a woman must take her husband's name when they marry? Could he take hers instead? Our family name is simple and pleasant-sounding and I would much rather have it than his. He is opposed to the idea and I think he's being unreasonable. Please comment. — Name Of The Game

Dear Game: Your problem is not legal. It's emotional. A man's name is important to him—even if it does sound like a dirty word.

I can readily understand your fiancé's reluctance to trade his name for yours. In our society, females are coming on stronger and stronger. Your suggestion could well be interpreted as the ultimate attempt at emasculation. Don't pressure him or he might wind up letting you keep your simple, pleasant-sounding name and give his to somebody else.

Dear Ann Landers: You aren't wrong very often, but when you ARE wrong, madame, you are very wrong! Your advice to unfortunate people who must live with a glibby relative was off target. Time doesn't help these beleaguered victims. It merely wears them down.

I eloped at a tender age to get away from a non-stop talker—my mother. I realized, too late, that her continuous talking drove me out of the house into a disastrous marriage. Believe me, Ann, I have listened to her for 70 years, and if it were possible to become accustomed to incessant jabbering I would surely be used to it now. My mother is nearly 96 and deaf as a whatever. This is, of course, a tremendous advantage for her. She doesn't hear herself. She can't get along with a single soul. She is never wrong. No idea is good unless she thought of it. She is understandably frail, her eyesight is poor and her vocals are unsteady. But her head cords, the part of her anatomy which has every right to be worn out by now, are better than ever.

Dear Ann: For those of you who must contend with the running commentary of a non-stop talker (and there were many who wrote) I should have suggested earplugs. They DO work!

Dear Ann Landers: I am a middle-aged male who never thought I'd be writing to you, but here I am. Now you can say, "Welcome to the Club."

The problem is my daughter-in-law. She is driving us crazy. Our son, Buddy, left her three months ago for good reasons.

Rotary Service Spans 50 Years, Lemmer Reports

The golden anniversary of the Rotary Club of Escanaba will be observed in May, 1976, and in a preview of Rotary's history of contributions to the community, John A. Lemmer, past district governor of Rotary, recalled club highlights at Tuesday's program.

Thomas Stroebel, club president presented Lemmer, who has served the Rotary Club as president, in other offices and as chairman of major committees as well as Rotary District 622 governor.

Legion Dinner
About 85 people attended the membership dinner party sponsored by the Rheaume-Knauf American Legion Post 438 held Saturday night at the Legion Hall.

Lester Lauscher and Commander Earl Koshler of the Hermantown Post were guest speakers. Koshler is Upper Peninsula 11th District adjutant. The cocktail hour was at 6:30 p. m. and dinner at 7:30. Catering was by Mrs. Louis Tounsiant and Mrs. Peter Giovacki. Guest prizes were awarded to Leo Knauf and Mrs. Kenneth Taylor.

The regular meetings of the Legion and Auxiliary will be held Monday, Nov. 10, at 8 p. m. in the Legion Clubrooms.

Attended Conference
Six delegates from the Student Council of Bark River-Harris High School were in Iron Mountain Saturday to attend the annual Upper Peninsula Conference for Student Councils sponsored by the Bureau of School Services and the Extension Service of the University of Michigan and the Michigan Association of Student Councils.

Charles Ash of Revanna High School addressed the group on "Student Rights and Responsibilities" at the morning session. The welcome was given by George Trebilcock, Student Council advisor of Iron Mountain High School, during the general assembly. Roll call, balloting and installation of divisional officers completed the afternoon's agenda.

Attending from Bark River-Harris were: Steven Dercher, Linda Olson, Barbara Derouin, Mary Jo Teel, Gary Palmgren and Rhonda Leese. Charles W. Pearson, high school principal, accompanied the group to Iron Mountain.

Basar Well Attended
The annual festival and basar held at St. George Church, Sunday was well attended. Prize winners were: Otto Lindquist, David Van Enkevort, F. Richer, Escanaba; Mrs. Joseph Pach and Mrs. Lloyd Olson.

The Rotary devoted service to crippled children began in the early 1930's and its leaders included Herman Gessner, first chairman of the crippled children committee, L. J. Jacobs, James Degnan and others. Rotary Camp Harstad was established on the Ford River shore with the cooperation of many persons and serves each summer to bring better health to handicapped youngsters of the area.

The Rotary Crippled Children's Association was formed in 1964 and received gifts and other bequests whose trust value now totals $48,600, Lemmer reported. The earnings—more than $17,000—have through the years financed crippled children's projects.

Rotary District governors from Escanaba besides Lemmer are Edward E. Edick and the late Harold Lindsey and Tom Benton. The latter was a member of the Gladstone Rotary Club and then moved to Escanaba.

Schaffer

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cloere and children have returned to their home in Niles, Ill., following a weekend visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dault.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Meyers have returned from a visit in Milwaukee and Niles, Ill.

Attended Funeral
Out of town relatives here for the Homer Seymour funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stec and sons Lawrence and David, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Brown and children, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Liss, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Liss, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harazmus, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Symoniak and son and Mr. Joseph Liss, all of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Young and Mrs. Evelyn Nielson of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rondo, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Hausman, Mr. and Mrs. James Weak, Mary Johnson and Peter John of Marquette, Rev. John Arneith and Mrs. Blanche Pilon of Stambaugh, Mrs. Beatrice Arneith and Mrs. Paul Moll of Negaunee and Mr. and Mrs. Antone Servis of Iron Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. EM Taylor visited relatives in Lena, Wis., this week.

First Friday
Mass at the Sacred Heart Church will be at 7 p. m. on Friday, Nov. 7.

Briefly Told

Walden Johnson served as a pallbearer at the Nicholas Mankoff funeral and not William Nelson as stated in Monday's Press.

Charter members not present, said Lemmer, were William Clark, J. C. Kirkpatrick, Clint Oliver, C. M. Thatcher and P. L. Utley.

Officers of the newly organized Rotary Club were Richard McLean, president, and E. W. Reade vice president.

In the early year's of Rotary discussion programs included concern with strikes, problems of Bolshevism, and higher prices; the Rotary Club interested itself in promotion of the Boy Scout program (it continued to sponsor a troop) and started a fundraising drive that netted $5,000, Lemmer reported.

United Charities promotion, discussions on city charter changes, council-manager government, and the "moral situation" of the community were among program topics of the 1920's.

The Rotary devoted service to crippled children began in the early 1930's and its leaders included Herman Gessner, first chairman of the crippled children committee, L. J. Jacobs, James Degnan and others. Rotary Camp Harstad was established on the Ford River shore with the cooperation of many persons and serves each summer to bring better health to handicapped youngsters of the area.

Memories of Boyhood

Human heart is an often filled with pictures of boyhood. Mentally, the boy grows in the quiet moments of our lives. Our minds break into secret laughter at one memory, and turn blind with instant tears at another.

Time often seems like a never-healing agony, but this album of the past we keep within us does to reconcile us to present pain.

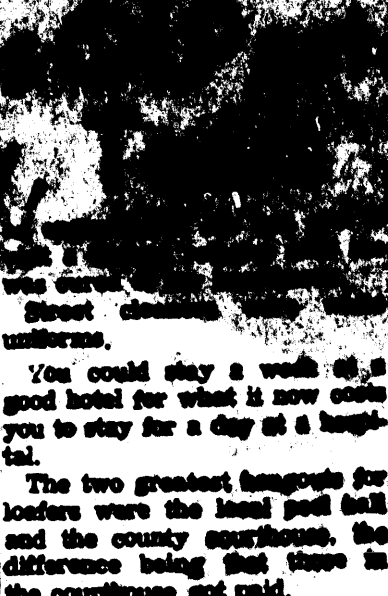

Your own memory book has some well-thumbed pages if you can look back and remember when—

Dark brown memories were supposed to be best for you, and usually the taste they left in your mouth was the same again. Any kid whose mother drove him to school was regarded as a slacker.

Children in a huge family quarreled over which would get to eat the fried heads of a head of bread in many families today these crusty delicacies are thrown away unwashed.

High school generally had boy cheerleaders; the mothers of girl students didn't think it proper for their daughters to go through such gyrations in public.

Obituary

MRS. MARGARET COOK
Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret Cook were held at 11 a. m. today at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church with the Rev. Ben H. Baker officiating. Burial was in Lakewood Cemetery. Pallbearers were Pete Hira, Cliff Vaden, Al Frovener, Hiram Hengst, Jim Wils and Ray Dubs.

When in a bad turn the steering wheel in the direction in which the rear end of the car is sliding.

The two greatest dangers for leaders were the local pull ball and the county courthouse, the difference being that there in the courthouse got paid.

The only thing that made school in a small town after midnight was a howling dog.

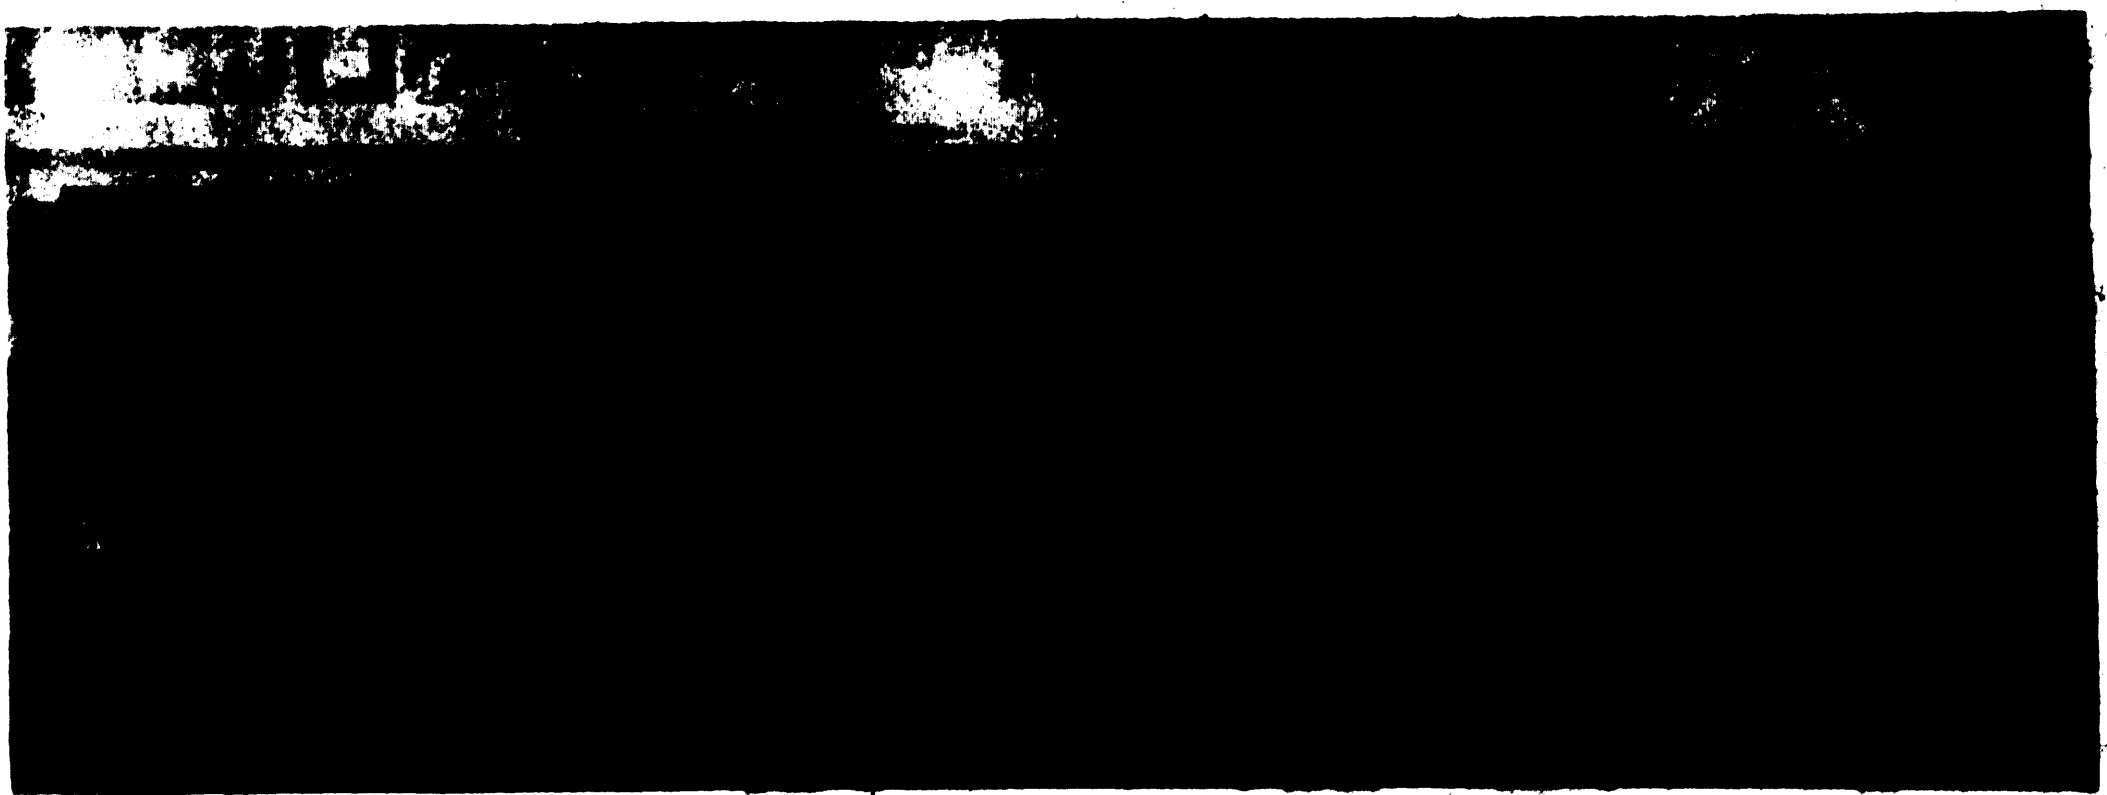

You could enjoy the robust smell of burning autumn leaves in your back yard without having a neighbor call up a city official and complain you were polluting the air.

A banker would be scandalized at the effrontery of any man who came in to borrow money merely to take his wife on a vacation.

Guys who wore pinstripes and bell-bottom trousers were known as "cake eaters" and thought of by the general populace as juvenile mental lightweights.

On a drive through the countryside you would see more horses and make them trotter. If you heard something, you didn't call it "cool." You said it was a "bandwagon."

Notre Dame's Bowl Policy May Change

CHICAGO (AP) — Notre Dame's bowl policy has been under attack for more than four years, but the Irish have been able to keep the door on another possible bowl appearance.

Notre Dame's only post-season football game was the 1925 Rose Bowl game in which Knute Rockne's Irish whipped Stanford and Mike Nevers 27-10.

Speculation has been that the Irish are in a financial bind because of their new multi-million dollar sports and convocation center and that they also would like to cover their football fields with synthetic turf.

To do so, money is needed and a bowl appearance is about the easiest way to pick up a fast $500,000. Add to this the fact that Coach Ara Parseghian is all for Notre Dame appearing that Notre Dame might change its policy continues.

"In all previous five seasons I've coached at Notre Dame, we've received a bowl invitation every year," Parseghian told the Chicago football writers Tuesday.

"And every year our board meets to review and consider these invitations and every year the board turns them down," he said. "I'm sure if we can win the rest of our games this year, we'll probably get another invitation but I have no reason to believe the policy will change. Maybe somebody knows something that I don't know."

"Everybody knows my position on bowl games," continued Parseghian. "It would create great incentive and it would be great for recruiting purposes. Also, a bowl game would give us an opportunity to redeem an early season loss such as we suffered against Purdue. Some teams get into bowl games with 7-3 records."

"Nevertheless, I have accepted Notre Dame's policy against bowl games and have endorsed it," said Parseghian.

Meanwhile, the Big Ten reaffirmed its bowl policies of the "no repeat" rule governing the Rose Bowl and the rule which prohibits conference members from appearing in any other bowls.

Commissioner Bill Reed issued a statement that he has canvassed the Faculty Representatives who govern the conference. Reed said "I find no possibility that the conference will modify for this year either the 'no repeat rule' which governs appearances in the Rose Bowl or the rule which prohibits members from appearing in any post-season football game other than the Rose Bowl."

City Dartball Tourney Opens

A big upset marked the opening round play in the Escanaba Tavern Dartball Association's first half tournament Monday night as the Colonial Hotel upended first half league champion Ward's Bar.

In other first round games, Bay de Noc knocked off Lombard's, Lark's beat the Palm and Eddy's Bar defeated the West Side.

The third and deciding game in the Colonial-Ward's clash went twelve innings before the Colonial scored the winning run on a triple by Bill Tuckman which drove in Butch Monson.

Tournament games will continue Thursday night with the semi-finals. Bay de Noc will play the Colonial at the West Side and Lark's will face Eddy's at Bay de Noc. The finals are scheduled for Monday, Nov. 10, at Lombard's at 8 p. m.

Sooners' Owens Named Top Back

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Steve Owens woke up with a slight headache Monday morning, but that was understandable. He'd had a big weekend.

The breaking Oklahoma tailback carried 53 times for 248 yards and four touchdowns in a 37-14 Saturday victory over Iowa State. He also completed his only pass and caught a pass for 15 more yards.

For that performance, Owens earned college football Back of the Week honors from The Associated Press.

"I didn't really get tired," said Owens. "I felt like I was running better at the end of the game than at the first. I don't understand it, because I got hit real hard out there."

Owens is a 213-pound senior who is closing in on the all-time records for rushing and scoring. He needs 164 yards to surpass the NCAA career rushing mark of 3,200 set by West State's Mercury Morris last year. He needs two touchdowns to better the career mark of 51 set more than 20 years ago by Glenn Davis of Army.

Gladstone Braves Feted At Banquet

GLADSTONE — It was truly a night for the Gladstone Braves Monday night at the James T. Jones School, as they were honored along with Jerry Cvergros of Escanaba Area High School at the 47th Annual Football Banquet sponsored by the Gladstone Rotary Club.

Cvergros, head football coach at Escanaba Area High School and Coach of the Year in 1968, received his permanent trophy from Mike Utt, sports editor of the Escanaba Daily Press who represented the U. P. Sportswriters Association. The Gladstone Rotary Club honors the Coach of the Year following the football season each year, but this year's Coach of the Year will not be selected until Saturday, when the U. P. Sportswriters Association holds its annual fall meeting.

Dr. James Dehlin acted as Master of Ceremonies for the event and introduced the numerous guests attending the banquet. Dehlin also presented each of the coaches for each of the Braves' fall sports activities. The coaches, in turn, then introduced the members of their various teams and talked about the 1969 season.

The Gladstone varsity football team, under the direction of Don Potenhauer, who is retiring after 21 years as a head football coach at Gladstone High School, finished the season with a 6-1-1 record and won the Great Lakes Conference championship.

After talking about each of the games this past season, Potenhauer then presented All-Conference certificates to Tom Potenhauer, Cliff Young, Vern VanDresse, Lynn Apelgren, Gary Goodman, Mike Quipak, John Skellenger, Bart Stupak, Bob Young and Gary Young.

After the presentations were made to the football players, Dehlin then called upon Dave Andrews, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press and president of the Delta County U. of M. Alumni Club, to introduce the main speaker for the evening, Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, assistant athletic director and former head football coach at the University of Michigan.

Elliott talked about the football program at Michigan and reminded the players attending the banquet that to have a championship team, team character must be present. Elliott said that each and every player on the team must want to win just a little bit more than the other team.

A new award was initiated at last night's banquet and Dr. Dehlin and Joe Goodman were honored as Gladstone Boosters of the Year for their outstanding contributions to the Gladstone football program for 1969.

Florida Soph Tops Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Florida's John Reeves, a 6-foot-3, 202-pound sophomore who has been compared with Steve Spurrier, Florida's 1968 Heisman Trophy winner, has taken over the total offense lead in the major colleges.

Reeves moved past Mike Phipps of Purdue in his seventh game Saturday, finishing with 2,083 yards as compared to Phipps' 2,040.

Although Florida lost to Auburn, Reeves completed 33 of 63 passes for 369 yards to move in front of Phipps.

Ed Marinaro, Cornell sophomore, widened his lead in the rushing department with 1,023 yards on 182 carries although his six games are one less than those played by runnerup Clarence Davis of Southern California who has rushed for 958 yards.

Chuck Hixson of Southern Methodist remained on front in passing although his team was beaten by Texas, 45-14. Hixson completed 20 of 37 for 223 yards and one touchdown but was intercepted twice.

Ken Sanders of Tulane took over the punting lead with a 44.4-yard average.

Sonics Top Pistons Despite Late Surge

The Detroit Pistons staged a fourth-quarter rally Tuesday night, charging from 29 points behind.

Unfortunately, the rally lost its momentum when the Pistons moved to within nine points of the Seattle SuperSonics and the Sonics ended up on top of the National Basketball Association contest 116-102.

Elsewhere in the NBA on Election Day, it was Philadelphia over Chicago, 113-100; Baltimore downed San Francisco 124-105 and New York smashed Phoenix 116-100.

In the American Basketball Association, Washington turned back the Carolina Cougars 117-107 in the only game Tuesday.

Except for the late-game surge, the Pistons had their typical assortment of troubles.

The Pistons committed 30 turnovers, 18 of them in the first half. They missed 18 of 52 free throws. They had trouble getting the ball through the hoop from the floor.

But coach Bill Van Breda Kolff saw some cause for encouragement in the game. He said of the fourth-quarter comeback: "It made a terrible evening worthwhile. The guys did a job — they worked hard at it. I told the guys at the beginning of the season just to work like hell and do what they're told."

Guard Dave Bing was high scorer for the Pistons with 28 points. Bob Boozer led Sonics scoring, also with 28.

There seems to be no stopping the New York Knicks in the National Basketball Association.

They won their seventh straight game by whipping the Phoenix Suns 116-99 Tuesday night. It was the 12th victory in their first 13 games for the Knicks, off to their fastest start ever in the NBA.

With Willis Reed reeling off seven straight baskets on his first seven shots, the Knicks got off to an early 14-point lead and the Suns never got closer than 11 minutes.

Reed finished with 34 points, tops for the Knicks. Connie Hawkins of the Suns was high for the game with 38.

Hal Greer had an off night for the 76ers, but he made up with it with some last-second tactics that gave his team victory over Chicago.

With just a few seconds remaining, Greer knocked the ball out of Chet Walker's hands, set out of court for a basket off an assist from Archie Clark to ice it.

The Bulls grabbed a 10-point lead in the second quarter, but a nine-point string early in the third period—including four each by Gene Washington and Clark—guided Philadelphia ahead 65-61. The 76ers built it to 99-90 in the final quarter before Chicago rallied and pulled to within 111-109 on Clark-Haskins' basket with 37 seconds left.

Greer missed a shot, with 13 seconds left before his theft pulled it out. He scored 18 while hitting only five of 15 field goal attempts. Clark finished with 28 points and Washington and Bill Cunningham had 21 each.

Walker had 23 for the Bulls and Bob Love contributed 27.

In the nightcap, Baltimore's Wes Unseld, the league's most valuable player last year, sat out much of the game because of foul trouble, but the Bulls rallied behind substitute center Leroy Ellis and Gus Johnson.

Ellis, who had 22 points and 11 rebounds, and Johnson, who had 24 points, each scored four points when the Bulls rang up a 15-3 streak in taking a 51-32 lead in the second quarter. Baltimore then went on another 15-3 binge in the third period—when Johnson scored seven and Ellis four—in boosting the margin to 87-65.

Jack Martin led Baltimore with 26 points. Jeff Mullins had 9 with the Warriors.

Warren Armstrong scored 23 points and bailed in 19 rebounds and Roland Taylor and Henry Logan scored 19 points each in guiding Washington past Carolina in the ABA.

Rob Varga scored 32 and Randy Mahaffey 20 for the Cougars

Toronto Scores First Road Win

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland Seals have lost two in a row for the first time this National Hockey League season, and the Toronto Maple Leafs have won their first road victory.

The Leafs, with Dave Keon and Murray Oliver leading the offense and rookie Marv Edwards giving an outstanding goalie performance, whipped Oakland 5-3 in the only NHL action Tuesday night.

Toronto got three goals in the second period. Center Keon scored the first on an 18-footer at 1:27 and assisted on the next two by wing Oliver at 14:53 and 19:40.

Oakland had only three shots on goal in the second period after leading 1-0 through the first period on a 45-footer defenseman Doug Roberts lashed into the net at just 46 seconds.

Wing Paul Henderson boosted the Maple Leafs' lead to 4-1 at 40 seconds of the third period before Oakland scored again on Ted Hampson's goal. Toronto's Jim McKenny offset that with the final goal at 12:58.

Toronto's Mike Walton was tossed out of the game by referee Tom Smith for arguing about a high-sticking penalty and showing the official, at 2:13 before the game ended.

Edwards, the Toronto goalie, was at his best in the first period when the Maple Leafs got three consecutive penalties and the Seals were unable to cash in.

Five games are on tap for tonight with Toronto at Los Angeles, Minnesota at Montreal, New York at Chicago, St. Louis at Boston and Detroit at Pittsburgh.

Auburn Defender Wins Weekly Lineman Honor

By The Associated Press

About the only thing Sonny Ferguson didn't do Saturday was play offensive end. Yet, he still managed to catch three passes.

Of course, they were all thrown by John Reeves of Florida, and, since Ferguson plays linebacker for Auburn, Florida was asking for trouble. They got it to the tune of 38-12, the first defeat of the season for the Gators.

The three interceptions were just part of Ferguson's over-all destruction, a performance that earned him Lineman of the Week honors from The Associated Press.

He also made eight tackles and two assisted tackles and graded 92 per cent while appearing in 85 of Auburn's 94 defensive plays. Two tackles saved touchdowns and he knocked down passes on his own one-and-five-yard lines to prevent two more. All that while delaying on Florida's great passer-thrower Carlos Alvarez.

But it was the interceptions that broke Florida's back—and winning streak. The first came at midfield and led to a field goal. The second he returned 30 yards to the Florida three to set up a touchdown and the third... Well, the third he only returned 11 yards for a touchdown, but before reaching the end zone he broke four tackles while scampering from sideline to sideline and backtracking twice from the five to the 10 looking for running room.

"Sonny has always had a knack for making the big play when it's least expected," said Coach Ralph "Shug" Jordan of his 6-foot, 197-pound senior.

"Against Florida he played the best game I've ever seen a rover linebacker play."

"The three interceptions had a direct influence on our scoring, but in addition to the big plays he graded exceptionally high for an 85-play game."

The three interceptions, by the way, tied the Southeastern Conference record.

Ironically, Ferguson came to Auburn—without a scholarship—as a 165-pound halfback from Birmingham, Ala. He played defensive back for three games as a freshman and was switched to rover linebacker for the Alabama game.

He impressed the coaches in that one and followed it with a good spring practice, earning a scholarship.

MANISTIQUE Voters Reject Court Proposal

Schoolcraft County voters turned down a proposal to consolidate the probate courts of Schoolcraft and Alger counties into a district Probate Court by an 8 to 1 margin in Tuesday's special election.

Unofficial tallies show 1,998 votes were cast, about 20 percent of the registered voters in the county, with 998 voting against the proposal and 128 in favor.

The proposition failed in all 11 precincts.

Alger County voters turned down the proposal 588 to 275.

For the merger to become effective, majority voter approval in each county was necessary.

Both counties will continue to operate individual Probate Courts.

Schoolcraft County Probate Judge John F. Faherty, who spoke out against the consolidation, said it is his understanding the proposal could not be placed before the voters for another six years. Faherty has been Probate Judge since Jan. 1, 1963.

Gladstone Schools Plan To Observe Education Week

Gladstone Public Schools will observe American Education Week beginning Nov. 10 with activities that will involve both parents and interested citizens. It is announced by Wes Fleet, Supt. of public schools.

Fleet said classrooms and facilities will be open for visitation at all times throughout the week.

The PTA program on Monday evening in the new gymnasium will feature Sgt. Edwin Hill, of the Marquette State Police post who will provide a program on narcotics. All interested adults and high school students are invited to attend. The Board of Education will meet at 6:30 p. m. prior to the PTA meeting.

An Open House will be held in the high school Tuesday evening with all parents invited to come to the school and follow their child's daily schedule of classes beginning with first hour at 7 p. m. Ten minute classes will be held to inform the parents of course objectives, materials used and school facilities. A coffee hour in the study hall will begin at 8:30 p. m. Fleet said this was not a parent-teacher conference but that any parent wishing to consult with a teacher an appointment could be arranged.

Parent-teacher conferences are scheduled for the afternoon of Nov. 13 and 14 for grades one through six. The elementary staff feels it is very important to have these conferences in order to communicate with every parent on the progress of each individual child within the district. Each conference will be limited to 15 minutes and information concerning the time and date will be sent home with students.

Children will attend school only during the morning on Nov. 13 and 14 and students who ride the bus will be returned after school closes at noon. No hot lunch will be served to the elementary students on these days.

Kindergarten students will attend regular classes during conference days as they will not be involved.

Fleet said "By planning and working together we can better achieve the goals set for your children." Your school is your investment in the future, he added.

Area Boards Talk Merger

Five area school boards met at Rapid River Monday evening to explore the possibility of reorganization in the light of pending school legislation.

Gerald Manville, superintendent of the Rapid River Schools, invited the Gladstone, Tremont, Perkins, Brampton, Rock and Flat Rock Boards to the meeting to discuss their positions, however Rock representatives did not attend. The boards discussed several possibilities, pitfalls and benefits and agreed by mutual consent to take no action until the legislature defined its position.

Manville was authorized to contact outside agencies concerning a possible reorganization study. He said another meeting would be held in the near future as soon as the legislature could tell the Boards what to expect.
